DEDICATION

Dear Wilson men in battle everywhere, Senior boys going in, This book is dedicated to you, all of you, on the sea, in the air, on land, in hospitals, in prison camps, those who won't come back. We wish, boys, you could write this dedication; you are the only ones who are worthy; who know war.

We love you—Wilson

Faculty entertain Mr. Moore and bride

★This year will be remembered by our youth because of two events of major importance in the life of our country and of the pupils in the Long Beach public schools. First, we mourn the tragic death of our beloved President on the eve of his greatest triumphs and honor his memory for his great love of humanity and his fight for the rights of the common man. Second, the passing of an 8,500,000 dollar bond issue for our public schools means added facilities for our young people and greater educational opportunities for the veterans who wish to continue their education when they are released from the armed forces. We are very proud of the fact that our school has been able to extend the hand of welcome to our Alumni in uniform who have been permitted to return to the campus. They have much to tell us of their experiences as fighting men and the honors which they have won. We bow our heads in respect to the memory of those who will not return and pray that ere another year has passed we may be able to present another Campanile dedicated to a glorious victory that grants peace and justice to all men regardless of race, color or creed. In graditude to those who have had a part in this great war for freedom, we humbly dedicate this Campanile of 1945.

★ WILSON AT WAR—With more than 3000 Alumni in the service, Wilson has renewed its pledge for the war-effort. She has backed every drive in a grand way. Students helped war-torn lands by putting the Red Cross Drive over the top; World Club sponsored Old Clothes donations; students brought in tons of usable materials; Wilson helped the nurse shortage by supplying local hospitals with 30 Nurses' Aides. French students raised over $300 for French Children's War Relief. Therapy classes made dozens of project instructions for men in Navy Hospitals. Junior Speakers provided stirring talks to encourage local War Bond buying. The Glee Club sang messages of joy to war workers and servicemen in Harbor area. Working four hours a day Wilson boys volunteered for war jobs. Camp shows toured Southland bases and hospitals, receiving thunderous applause of sincere appreciation. Girls' League conducted a battery of war projects throughout the year. Entire school paid tribute to the late President Roosevelt. Students eagerly studied San Francisco Conference promising eternal peace.

War work hits all time high as Wilson enters fourth year of world war

★ WAR COURSES—The daily return of thousands of wounded servicemen to Long Beach brings home war's grim realities. The sorrow, sacrifice, and daring courage displayed by Yanks makes all Americans proud. Expanded efforts toward victory's reality is our daily theme. Armed Forces of the government now require, more than ever before, accurate scholarship in the fields of science, math, English, and physical fitness for all high-school graduates. With eagerness every senior shares in this program. With 30 pre-induction courses for all Seniors, Wilson is fighting at home and at school. Large numbers of girls answered the call for nurses's aides. Wilson gives added training in such classes as nutrition, hygiene, and first aid, besides giving girls the opportunity for actual work in hospitals, by relieving trained nurses. Some emergency courses include meteorology, navigation, radio code, and therapy crafts.

War courses reach new peak preparing Wilson youth for war world

★ HIGH STANDARDS—Despite terrific forces that are rocking institutions and governments brought on by the hysteria of war, Wilson is maintaining good standards in scholarship in the fundamentals that generations have approved. Tested procedures, techniques and criteria are still the yard stick at Wilson. The Industrial Arts in the pre-war pattern are preparing boys for jobs. Standards for college entrance requirements are still maintained and followed by a large percentage of ranking students. If there is a conflict between pre-induction classes and college entrance classes, college entrance subjects are followed. There is a place for war classes; these are being carried through intelligently, but the steadying influence of accurate scholarship, far reaching life plans, broad training still are the dominating force in the East End. Everything points to a steadying influence for returned boys.

★ PHYSICAL FITNESS—In order to meet the demands of war, the physical education program at Wilson has changed from its peace time training to the "toughening up" process war requires. The goal is to equip every boy with physical and mental alertness. The task of priming youth to meet war's strain means added emphasis placed on physical and mental coordination. In line with these aims, Wilson's physical education program provides that emphasis be placed upon rugged combat activities. A knowledge of military drill requirements is one phase of training included in the war program. Since "survival of the fittest" has become a reality, Wilson presents a thorough military swimming and boxing program. As the instruction comes from professional rather than military men, it is evident that there is some deviation from military technicalities. Wilson has equipped young America for some war tasks ahead.

Mrs. Luberg's occupational crafts class displays, very proudly, some of their clay models. Displayed are note books that are being used as copys for wounded service men. Music minded Wilson students blend their voices in the harmony of song. Mr. Furjanick's young bandmen receive high music award in a special award's assembly. Under able direction students blend instruments in rehearsal for future concert. Americans march and drill in Military drill.

Wilson orchestra hailed as one of Southern California's finest

Alquire's section collected dozens of books in drive for fighting men

★ Mrs. Alquire's section rated highest in the Wilson book drive for servicemen. Bows poised, all eyes turn to the conductor, to await the signal for the violins to begin. Three modern misses, sewing their way to beautiful fashions. Oak Smith, first Wilson coach, presents Wilson men with their letters. Miss Blackwood's French class has pledged its loyalty, with $300, to help the starving people of France. Books pour in by hundreds, in the book drive for Wilson fighting men.

★ BOARD OF GOVERNORS—Wilson's Annual War Bond Drive which, in December, went over the top to give renewed strength to our participation in the war, is an example of the administrative capabilities of Wilson's Board of Governors. Supreme in the arts of democratic legislation is Wilson's Board. Elected by the entire student body, they represent the superlative in executive and administrative abilities. On local issues, too, swift action and clear thinking highlighted their every move. By approving the Student Court the Board of Governors introduced new liberal legislation into the school. It was the Board of Governors that sponsored the talk, "The Story Outside of Germany," by Dr. Hall.

★ STUDENT COUNCIL—Made up of able, competent members from every major activity, the Student Council is the governing body in Wilson. These students who spark some hundred dynamic school activities furnish the power that fires the Wilson campus. The Council has taken an active part in student affairs during the past year. Highlights were the promotion of the Student Court, approval of the new club constitutions, and preparation of the student body budget. They also planned fine and interesting assemblies and formulated a plan for revising the gold "W" points. These students, who represent many extra-curricular activities at Wilson, meet once each week under capable guidance of Leon Catlin.

★ HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES—Solving campus problems through open student discussion is the primary objective of the House of Representatives composed of two members from each section who set standards of conduct for the patio, cafeteria, and auditorium. Through the House of Representatives a judicial department was organized, in the form of a Student Court, to try the students that violated the House rulings. The comical assembly depicting the "bad points" of the campus was sponsored by Wilson's legislative body—the House of Representatives.

★ STUDENT COURT—The Student Court, Judicial department of student government, was started this year as an outgrowth of the House of Representatives' need for prosecuting those students who would not conform with student-made rules. Students are summoned to the Court after receiving two citations, and are put on probation or penalized by the group. The personnel of the court includes the governors, two members from the Council, six members from the House, President of classes and Girls' League and officers of the house. Certain members of the court are retained from year to year. A member of the court may be impeached by the majority of the House of Representatives.

★ GIRLS' LEAGUE—Give! Give! Support the Red Cross! Enthusiastic Girls' League leaders supported drives; hard-working committees knitted, pasted, sewed; ever-watchful girls gave time, money, books. Assemblies emphasized vocations for war and peace; nursing, education, social work, medicine were studied by eager young career women. Region V conferences emphasized war activities; work parties fulfilled plea for war supplies, Red Cross supplies. Dozens of afghans poured out; hundreds of greeting cards were rushed to hospitals; scores of game bags were sent to wounded men. This hard-working, efficient organization backed war and peace activities, sponsored school building projects. Faculty and sponsors' teas, new girls' parties, Fo'c'sle Canteen work, and uniform conferences kept school traditions alive.

★ P. T. A.—The Wilson Parent-Teacher Association under the resourceful and experienced leadership of its president, Mrs. E. M. Findlay, has had a busy and successful year. With membership of 1,148, it has worked in co-operation with the faculty through monthly programs to carry out the theme, "Wilson High School Interprets Its Program to the Patrons." In addition to the usual assistance given to the activities of the various welfare agencies, it helped to purchase a turning frame for the Adelaide Tichenor Clinic and took an active part in the passage of the $8,500,00 School Bond issue.

★ CHRISTMAS PAGEANT—In the annual Christmas pageant, the ageless story of the Infant Christ and the Holy Night rang through Wilson. In a world at war, Christmas this year was felt more deeply in the hearts of everyone than ever before. As the miracle theme was presented, students remembered how Christ came for peace, and how hundreds and hundreds of Wilson boys today are in all parts of the same world, beneath the same star, waiting and fighting for the same peace. Music played softly through the night while the solemn wise men traveled on toward the manger. Tearful eyes were closed; crowds stilled; heads bowed; everyone in the vast audience lifted his thought in a prayer for peace that next Christmas his brother, sister or father now serving in war might return to the peace for which he fought.

The stage crew directed by Miss Burdick and Mr. Edwards designed sacred scenes; Mrs. Luberg's crew supplied costumes and makeup. Angels were portrayed by Miss Reagan's rhythms' class; the Brueggemann Glee and Furjanick orchestra gave sacred music that blended and inspired the theme.

★ STAGE CREW, STAGECRAFT CLASS—Last minute check before final rehearsal—stage crew busy—electrician adjusting spots on lower light bridge—patching the upholstery with dye, no less—making everything what it ain't—Miss B. How's the light? Where's Ed? Put a board under that cushion to lift the height of the arm chair; paint the edge of it—Where's my "to do" list? Props—dress that cupboard Pete, let down your No. 2 slote. Aren't ya gonna get some decent furniture, this from a critical cast, and others. More of a ring sound on that bell, not so dead, sounds like a brake drum. No, the clock is not to srike during the show; it's too distracting. Can't you find a knob for the top of that of costumer? Ah! I know—Get the leg from the red dresser—that's swell. Curtain man, check the trim on the front rag! Days of this on and on ad infinitum—until the crucial moment "cast on stage, crew clear-light, Curtain."

★ STAGE COSTUME AND MAKE-UP—The Stage costume and Make-Up Crew is taught student application of stage make-up and to create costumes for actual productions. Such events as the holiday programs and the annual play provide the class with an opportunity of exhibiting their skill and ingenuity. Thanksgiving saw the kleigs shining on a pictorial pageant of American History. Christmas, and the full abilities of the crew displayed the depiction of the miracle of Christmas. Students in Stage Costume and Make-Up Crew have had the opportunity to visit back stage after professional productions. For after-performance fun the Costume Crew joins with the cast for dancing, refreshments, and relaxation following a tense and exciting climax to the weeks of preparation and work. Mrs. Luberg supervised costumes and make-up in the lavish, colorful tableaux, and the great comedy, "Junior Miss."

★ BAND—The Wilson Band was one of the six musical groups in the entire West to receive the National Victory Award for service to men in arms. For three years the Furjanick band men have gone up and down Southern California with music and variety shows cheering thousands of men. Wide eyed blue jackets, veterans all, from Guadalcanal to D-Day in France, laughed and cheered as a hundred entertainers swept in to the Corona Hospital. They played for bond drives, football games, and basketball games. Again this year they were rated one of the top bands at the Los Angeles Music Festival. The band put on professional half time stunts for all the football games, climaxed the Poly game.

★ ORCHESTRA—Living up to great past traditions Nicholas Furjanick again turned out another great orchestra. This year a new feature of the orchestra was “a-la Andre Kostelanetz and David Rose” assemblies playing popular music. Outstanding numbers were Holiday for Strings, Our Waltz, and Stardust. In the annual Festival of High School orchestras Wilson rated one of the top ranking aggregations of young musicians in Southern California. Fine soloists and ensembles have come out of the orchestra, good background and intermission music for all school plays, and stately dignified work of masters enriched Pageants, Vespers, and Commencement.

Furjanick bandmen awarded national victory seal for service camp shows

★ GLEE CLUBS—Accepting the challenge of war bristling Long Beach, the Girls' Glee have presented programs for the Naval Hospital boys, Service Men's Clubs, Terminal Island Navy Yard, Service Men's Center and outstanding city organizations including the Optimist Club, University Women's Club and Professional Women's Club. Their beautiful voices in beautiful arrangements have given dignity, color and culture to Wilson's always cherished, always sublime Pageant, Vespers and Commencement rites. Their repertoire includes classical favorites, musical comedy sensations, and popular numbers. Their objective, learning and appreciating good music, voice training and team work, public appearances for school and city, are lived and enjoyed every class period.

★ BOY'S GLEE—For the first time in Wilson history, a band of boys got together activity period with Mrs. Brueggemann on their own time, without credit and organized a Glee Club. Class conflicts prevented a routine period. They meet to memorize and harmonize, sacred, secular and popular songs. They plan to organize camp shows for Army and Navy groups, churches and Wilson assemblies.

★SCHOLARSHIP—"Scholarship for service" is the motto of the enthusiastic members of Scholarship Society. Although handicapped by war time conditions, members expressed opinions and called for changes through the California Scholarship Federation Bulletin. A fiery discussion of present requirements highlighted a meeting of Poly, Jordan, St. Anthony's, and Wilson representatives. Scholarship girls knitted sweaters and afghans; scholarship boys collected crossword puzzles, donated money. Stimulated by the nation's ranking educators, Wilson scholars pledged themselves to carry forward the creed of service to all. Twenty-three Sealbearers renewed their promise by accepting the Scholarship Lamp, symbol of scholarship, citizenship, and service. Their gala banquet scintillated with clever speeches, witticisms and fun.

★ USHERS—Greeting patrons, seating them, making them happy and comfortable are only few of the duties of Wilson's Usher Corps. Under the coaching of Herschel Hart the boys are taught all the finesse of being good hosts in an easy flawless manner. They usher at many local events at the Municipal and Wilson auditoriums, and are hosts of campus assemblies, plays, Vespers, Commencement, pageants, concerts. Under leadership of Sewell Sample and Bill Nicolai, ushers were coached as qualified receptionists.

★ CHEMISTRY TEAM—The 1945 Chemistry team, endeavoring to keep Woodrow Wilson on the honor team of the American Chemical Society, is spending many hours in deep research, preparing for the annual Chemistry competition. Wilson was one of the ten top schools for six years. Last year, in the thirtieth annual contest sponsored by the society, out of the 55 schools and 186 contestants that entered, three Wilson boys placed high on the final rating. Honors went to: James Dixon, 9; Richard Litherland, 10; Carl Price, 11. Today the former stars of the Wilson Chemistry teams are serving in Chemical Warfare on all the major battlefronts.

★ JUNIOR SPEAKERS—Flanking the home front as youth fights the war on foreign fronts, Junior Speakers presented opinions of Wilson's youth to dozens of community organizations. These budding orators challenged the spirit of home front citizens through their distinguished organization established to fill requests for student speakers. Service Clubs, P. T. A.'s church groups, and other outstanding organizations have welcomed the enthusiastic and keen discussions of Bureau members. KGER radio panels, inter-class Kiwanis Club extemporaneous contest, Sophomore extemporaneous contest, panels for P. T. A., and spirited discussions on school bond issues completed an ambitious program of service to school and community.

★ JUNIOR SPEAKERS—Front row: Boone, Davis, Wilets, Garfinkel, Whiteman. Second row: Lardizabal, Tincher, Powell, Stannard, Brownfield, Thompson, Mr. Pierce. Third row: Yates, Prell, Long, Levich, Rosen, Munsey, Bower. Fourth row: Spiegel, Fowler, Gerber. Mgr., Thompson; Sponsor, Mr. Pierce.

★ KIWANIS FINALISTS—Garfinkle, Brownfield, Spiegel, Wilets, Whiteman, Boone.

★ STUDENT BODY STORE—The store is a great campus institution: here students mingle, have fun, make friends, work out student democracy, promote campus projects, and set the tempo for a great Wilson. Amid the conglomeration of sounds, colors, and odors, jostling of impatient students, emerge the friendly smiles of store salesmen, courteous, willing and eager to supply the wants of a war time snack shack. Every up-to-the-minute confection is sold over the counter via rationing. Progressive young salesmen, sixty strong, hear talks by outstanding sales authorities on salesmanship in 1945. Salesmen are given the fundamentals of modern sales through weekly lectures. Social affairs included a brilliant Xmas party in the store where fifty made merry with games and a great ice cream cake. The semi-annual managers' dinners at the Villa are followed by gay theatre parties.

★ STORE-A-G—Front row: Stafford, Alford, Butcher, Mrs. Bratton, Mr. Nutter, Hamilton, Rutherford, Peterson. Second row: Finnegan, Fishbaugh, Rhoads, Cleaver, Allen, Braden, Ellis, Chase, Ardray. Third row: Carpenter, Bivens, Clayton, Fike, Delk, Booher, Gibson, Coales.

★ STORE-H-Z—Front row: Hamilton, Langley, Osborn, Hubbard, Mrs. Bratton, Rutherford, King. Second row: Keith, Young, Kindseth, Marbod, Owenson, Vencill. Third row: Yeo, Wilson, Stone, Tinsley, Rohland.

Every up-to-the-minute confection is sold over the store fountain

★ LA FUENTE—As a literary magazine, La Fuente completes a trio of outstanding campus publications, the purpose of which is to display the creative writing of the English and creative writing classes. Appearing at Christmas time in its flashing cover of red and gold, with illustrations done by art classes under Miss Burdick, La Fuente was delivered to 950 eager students. The staff expects the magazine to again make the All-American rating following the tradition set by former issues.

★ SCRIPTERS—Scripters' Club is a select group composed of budding Longfellows and O. Henrys—in other words, the literary talent of Wilson. To inspire interest in literary expression, to develop creative writing ability, and to provide profitable social contacts for students with similar interests, Scripters meet once a month in homes of members to discuss original essays, critiques, short stories, poems and sketches. They edit and sell Wilson's All-American winner, La Fuente, sponsored by Mr. Gartner and Mrs. Townsend.

★ LOUDSPEAKER— Received not only with such an eager reception on the campus, but all over the world is Wilson's Loudspeaker. From far away Saipan, Guam, Leyte, China, India, and Iwo Jima have come letters from Wilson boys praising the Loudspeaker, and notes stressing the eagerness of their American buddies, who avidly read the Wilson news over their shoulders. The Loudspeaker has steadily advanced in interest, enthusiasm, and quality through the aid of the critical service offered by the National Scholastic Press Association. Each issue of the Loudspeaker is constructively criticised to give it a broad, modern trend in style. Each page of the bi-monthly publication literally radiates with stories, up-to-the-minute news, columns, and campus gossip. Evidence of the Loudspeaker's popularity is the mobs that flock to the campus to obtain their copy of latest school news. While John Gartner, sponsor, is on leave of absence with the Board of Education doing publicity work with the Long Beach Schools, Miss Elva Dittman will act as advisor. Leading the staff is Editor Beth Rosen, who has held the office both semesters. Men on the battlefields and workers here at home salute the Loudspeaker and its work for victory.

★ PRINTING—Maintaining the high standards that have helped Wilson obtain All-American honors for the Campanile, LaFuente and Loudspeaker, the printing department this year again has set a pace which should see a duplication in awards and praise. With Bob Beck, Don Campbell, and James Waples leading and being assisted by John Eubank, Harold McCune, Dick Park, Bill Stinson, Pat Sullivan, Derald Peterson, Ralph Zigeler, and Loren Foster the production work has reached a new high. Printing football programs, tickets, office forms, and P. T. A. calendars in addition to the school's periodicals and many City College forms these printing students have emphasized quality along with their heavy production schedule using modern equipment which places the shop with the top school plants of the nation.

★ JUNIOR MISS—Returning to the Pacific Coast the hilarious fun-fest, "Junior Miss," was enacted by Wilson players before capacity crowds of some 3500 on March 22, 23. The Wilson presentation was one of a professional calibre, depicting the trials and tribulations of an American family endeavoring to exist in a most entertaining way. Success of the play was somewhat due to the enthusiastic manner in which it was received by the students and friends of Wilson High School. Judy Graves, title role, was played by Beverly Melone co-starred with Joanne Losey in the role of Fuffy, Junior Miss's chum. Other members of the excellent cast were Don Stewart, Raylene Thompson, Beverly Brignall, Jerry Prell, Barby Watten, Bob Woods, Jean Pollen, Hugh Lenzer, Bud Wiener, Wayne Hubbard, Bob Whyte, Harold McCune, Ronald Williams, Dick Southwell, and Dan Boone. Dramatic coaching was in Miss Dougherty's hands, assisted by Miss Goodman. Miss Burdick's Stage Crew designed intriguing sets; Mrs. Luberg's make-up artists created vivid characters; the Furjanick orchestra provided music; the Hennes Ad Crew painted the campus with signs; Morrison's printers turned out gay programs.

A dazzling array of beauty, color, glittering red and gold pom-poms lift thousands of Wilson fans into a frenzy of joy. The tense moment when band and Boosters are pitted against the Poly Legions in similar formations is one of the great memories of the classic game. An honorary club, members are rigidly judged for initiative, leadership, citizenship, and scholarship. Boosters, fifty strong, are the spark plug of campus spirit.

French classes' morale soared as the millions of France were freed

★ FRENCH—Sparked by the liberation of France and the millions upon millions of happy French men who are helping drive the enemy from their sacred soil, the French classes presented to the school the French Club assembly. One act French plays and tableaux of famous French paintings were highlights of the program. Miss Blackwood's literary pieces were viewed by the French classes, as well as the movies she took abroad. Members renewed their prayers that the conflict will soon be over, and that their sponsor, Miss Blackwood, can intensify her study of the French on the soil of France. Through her lectures they visualize the dramatic splendor and dynamic beauty of Europe's pre-war paradise, France. World Club members, inspired, firm in purpose, plan post war work

★ WORLD CLUB—Good will and friendship among people and races of the world, objectives of the club, have been met by the enthusiastic members of the World Club, through inspiring programs reaching to many parts of Southern California. A dinner at a Chinese restaurant in Belmont Shore, Halloween party in the Woodland Clubhouse, and a Latin American program in a Mexican home in Lakewood Village, highlighted the World Club's activities. A delegation of four members attended the Fall Dinner meeting of California World Friendship Clubs at the Rosslyn Hotel in Los Angeles on Sunday, December 3. A trip to Los Angeles where the members visited the Mexican Methodist Church, Olvera Street, Chinatown, and ate at Taix' French restaurant, was among the most delightful of their activities.

★ JR. STATESMEN—Leading their school in a post-war program designed to shed light on the many problems concerning a lasting peace, Junior Statesmen have established an active committee now drafting what they feel is a just peace-plan for the world, which will be presented to the Junior Chamber of Commerce. This plan formulates the results of many months of hard work. Before accepting the draft, many discussions, debates, and reports were made. At state conventions they took active part in challenging discussions with representatives from Junior Statesmen throughout California. By this far-sighted work, they are keeping alive their motto, "Making Politics a Noble Profession."

Ad Club members plastered campus to boost Wilson's top notch activities

★ AD CLUB—Through top flight speakers, Wade Maplethrope of the Press-Telegram and Elmer Wheeler, nationally known writers, budding ad men learned that America's high standards of living and thinking are due to honesty and sincerity in advertising. Flashy posters, stimulating signs, programs, repainting selective service board 271, publicizing bonds, stamps, and saving drives are all graphically backed by the fiery Ad members. Every campus activity is splashed in brilliant colors on super signs in halls, store and patio. The annual Poly-Wilson Ad Club joint meeting at Woodland Clubhouse featured dancing and refreshments. Home meetings furnish stimulation and initiation fun fests.

★ HI-Y CLUB—"Clean speech, clean sports, clean mind, and clean morals" This is the creed that is followed by the Hi-Y. The Wilson Hi-Y is part of an army of young men who are working for peace, who are striving to create a feeling of good will and high standards of Christian character throughout the schools and the community. Weekly meetings are held every Monday night under the direction of Mr. Robinson, the sponsor. Widely varying activities are open to this group—including lectures by prominent business men and sport leaders, panel discussions, consideration of school problems, movies of camp and sport events, banquets, mountain parties and dances. One of the highlights of the year was the opening of the Y's Hive Canteen under the joint sponsorship of the Hi-Y and Hi-Tri. A broad development of character and body develops from the many activities open to this group.

War training program films aid senior boys in pre-induction classes

★ PROJECTION CREW—With the government's new challenge for men and women to fight the Nazis and the Japs, pre-induction films to acquaint Wilson men and women with the best methods, technique, and understanding of war training, are used daily by senior classes. Wilson's $1,000 projector and her efficient crewmen have enlarged their activities many fold in making students war minded. In addition to war training films, daily use of the projector is made by many classes in the various subjects taught in school. Visual education is important in concentrating on subjects when war frustrations challenge clear thinking.

★ SCIENCE—An ambitious program which includes field trips to some of the leading scientific centers in the nation is being worked out by the newly-organized Science Club. The world-famed Griffith planetarium, La Brea Tar Pits, Los Angeles Museum, and other southland centers are included. Many forms of exhibits collected by individual members will be mounted and prepared for a school museum. Their activities also include preparing exhibits for foyer and classroom and presenting programs for club and student body. Authorities on different phases of science have given lectures on scientific topics relating to the war. Outstanding highlight of the field trips, probably, was the vast exhibits of Los Angeles Museum.

War has focused attention on all forms of math: Slide Rule is answer

★ SLIDE RULE CLASS—Enthusiastic students of mathematics who realize the utility of the slide rule and its countless applications to short cuts gather once a week in room 137 to learn the art of manipulating this instrument. It is purely a volunteer organization of students who see the value of the slide rule in the future world—math devotees for the pure thrill of math. In spite of the pressure of the many activities going on during these war times, thirty students devote 15 hours to the study of this intricate instrument under the capable leadership of H. A. Bakken.

★ DEMOS—Outstanding in school affairs are members of the Demos Club. The club was busy all year building morale through sponsoring assemblies and inspiring the students with more school spirit. Giving rallies and awards are the objectives of this club and since the war they have leaned more toward selling of war stamps and bonds, not forgetting 2500 men and women in the service were at one time students of Woodrow Wilson. Membership is made up of peppy enthusiastic Wilson fans that radiate a score of outstanding campus activities. Headed by Joan Hibbs, top song leader, as this goes to press, an even larger program will go forward this last semester.

Budding M. D.'s, nurses' Aides get ready to aid service men

★ LATIN—Sensitive to the call of thousands of wounded men, Latin students are avidly mastering medical vocabularies pointing to the time when they can answer the urgent appeal of the government for medical aid. A second group of the club is organized to revel in the thrills and imagination of the great Latin myths. As one of the most intellectual campus groups, it takes on the nature of the study group and never loses sight of its big objective, the indispensable value of Latin in every day use. Other activities at bi-monthly meetings included donating $4.00 to Red Cross, open discussions and parties.

★ BOOK DISCUSSION—Post war programs, Germany's status after the war, compulsory military education, and sixty million jobs after the war, are some of the far reaching topics discussed through books by the avid readers of the Book Discussion Club. Heated clashes, opinions and views kept the home front of the club in the forefront of discussion groups. A wave of war theme books written in vivid new style were also enjoyed. Homes of members and school provide places for the bi-monthly meetings. Throughout Wilson's entire history this group has probably been foremost in its approach of national problems through books.

Red Cross is center for hundred activities working for victory

★ JUNIOR RED CROSS—Brilliantly colored afghans, khaki-colored sweaters, folded surgical dressings, scarfs, helmets, crossword puzzles—these are what the Red Cross group has been doing the past year to aid service men all over the world. Thousands and thousands of stitches, countless hours of unselfish work, hundreds and hundreds of mounted cross word puzzles for the boys on the other side of the world, are all part of the great Red Cross pageant of service to fighting men. Everywhere Red Cross girls can be seen busily knitting wash cloths, sweaters or some article that is urgently needed by the armed forces on all fighting fronts. The aim of the club this year is to help the Junior Red Cross provide for service men.

★ HI-TRI—A triumphant year of friendship, high ideals and service to the Red Cross in rolling bandages, making wash cloths, and knitting squares for afghans, in collaborating with other high schools to plan the new "Y's Hive" canteen, in opening and supporting the new canteen, these have given the Hi-Tri creed "To find and give the best" a joyful and inspiring fulfillment. But not all is "work without play." Hair styling demonstrations by Reno, movies on Juvenile Delinquency, pot luck dinners, and a new girls' party have all added to the enjoyment of the entire group. Competent sponsors of the club are Mrs. Meeks and Miss Burkee.

Long shots soar over green fairways in grand performance of royal game

★ RECREATION—All the new students coming to Wilson are eager for new friends and acquaintances in their new home. The brave and gallant Sophomores each year come to Wilson with a hope that they'll like Wilson and Wilson likes them. All one needs to become a good Wilsonian is to have friends and to know the campus. Working in the club they learn democracy. By belonging to the Recreation Club students can enjoy games of dominoes, checkers, play the piano, or have discussions of subjects that are of interest, and by doing these things new members gain social poise, make friends and gain confidence.

★ GOLF—Fore! a tiny white dot soars across the rolling green; forty pairs of bright, hopeful eyes follow its path; the Girls' Golf Club gathers to play the royal game. Stimulated by acres of rolling golf greens at Wilson's front door, scores of girls respond with good strokes, accurate shots, long drives, and fine golf play. Under the competent instruction of Gorge Lake, professional at Recreation Park, beginner, intermediate, and advanced players are taught good form and technique necessary for wholesome recreation and relaxation throughout life. Highlight was the opportunity to see Bob Hope and Bing Crosby in a benefit game.

Library holds pulse to numberless books, from classics to war fronts

★ LIBRARY ASSISTANTS—Capable assistants, sentries of the book-lined walls of Wilson library, work quietly and efficiently in giving aid to those who seek the knowledge contained in the hundreds of books kept there. Under the leadership of Miss Iredell and Miss Dodge, these competent librarians take their positions seriously as if in silent praise of the men and women whose books they watch over. In the quiet hush of the library, cares may be forgotten as the books take you back to the battles of today, post war programs or ancient eras of forgotten beauty and love, and yet always near, always ready to help are the library assistants, who are a great part of the smooth working Wilson library.

★ COGNOSCIANS—To encourage higher standards of scholarship, attitudes of service, and cooperation in school activities, are the aims of the Cognoscians, a group of outstanding leaders in modern history. This group of ranking scholarship students has chosen war activities as their chief interest. They have sponsored panels, forums, sing-fests, games, and last spring a war-stamp dance, and they have bought bonds, knit for the Red Cross, written letters to service men and collected jokes and cross word puzzles. Cognoscians, under the leadership of Miss Eggenberger, have made a place for themselves in the hearts of the service men to whom all their work is dedicated.

It's all Wilson; Bockmon takes his man out as Brown sweeps on for long run

Blistering fury marks Wilson's thunderous 20-0 victory over Poly in big game

★ POLY-WILSON GAME—Powerhouse backfield play supporting hard charging line action cleared the way for a sparkling 20-0 victory over Poly, our cross-town rivals for many years. Early in the second quarter, the Red and Gold tallied, and it could easily be seen that it would be another Wilson victory. Our powerful line shoved the Poly line all over the field chalking up large gains. Poly, when they had the ball, could only gain 16 yards from scrimmage during the entire game. A stellar pass defense broke up their air tactics. Tallying in the second and fourth quarters it was a decisive victory and brought Wilson the City and League Championships for the second straight year. The Poly "jinx" has truly been broken and an opening has been made for bigger wins in the future.

★ POLY-WILSON—In a smashing victory over our cross town rival our own mighty Bruin rolled over the Poly eleven to the tune of 20-0. Aided by the stellar playing of our powerful line, our mighty backfield, with Skip Rowland in key position, was again able to trounce the Hares for the second time in twelve long years. This game, the last of the season, cinched the City League Championship title for the second time. The crowds went mad; the fans yelled, and the students cheered. Wilson's army and navy that had whipped Japs and Germans off the face of the earth, with campaign ribbons from every battle area, were in the stands and on the bench playing their hearts out to roll up that score. We got in our cars, formed a huge parade to Belmont shore. We held a street dance by the bay; went to the victory dance at the City College.

★ VARSITY FOOTBALL—Using a brilliant "T" formation, the Bruin High Varsity again rolled into high gear to take City and League crowns. Paced by Skip Rowland, quarterback and Chuck Toy, guard, the team rounded into another great squad. Sparkling defeats of Santa Monica, Alhambra, Whittier, Compton, Jordan and Poly were highlighted by excellent passing of Dick McKenney, and stellar receiving of Bob Ballack. Excellent defensive men were Bob Walquist, Mac Marsh, and John Arnold. The hard charging line went through every opponent's line to make way for Morley Bockmon and Ray McCoy. Powerhouse of the back-field was Lyle Brown who hit his stride in the Poly game scoring all three touchdowns. Rowland, McKenney, Arnold, Marsh, and Walquist were placed on All-League and All-City selections. Rowland was named player of the year for his excellent handling of the ball from the intricate "T" formation.

Bruin power soar as Wilson smashes great, Green Team 20-0

★ Wilson huskies, Toy, brothers Brown and Bockmon. Coach Johnson, Halloran, Rowland and Minor, McKenney, Liggett, next year's line, Walquist, McCoy, Anderson.

★ POLY GAME HIGHLIGHTS—Supreme in the art of coordination, a smooth working Wilson team smashed to its second straight victory over the Poly High Hares 20-0. Inspired by the memory of his two brothers, also Wilson football stars, fullback, Lyle Brown, blazed the ground trail with relentless and blistering fury, gained unequaled yards to become the hero of the year. As Bob Walquist, massive tackle, cleared the way, fleet footed Ray McCoy ripped through all Poly defenses making huge gains. Together with the other two running stars, Captain "Skip" Rowland, and Morley Bockmon, Wilson had an unmatched squad. Behind the magnificent offensive was the great Bruin passer, Dick McKenney, whose receiver Bob Ballack rarely missed. Back this up with Harry "Surefoot" Minor, conversion star, and you have the Long Beach-Compton football champions of 1944. With each game a classic in football history, the Wilson team emerged one of California's great prep teams of all time.

★ VARSITY FOOTBALL—A hard charging fleet footed backfield, supported by a fighting, inexperienced line, smashed their way through the toughest lines in So. Cal to write the most brilliant chapter in Wilson grid history. That is the record of the Varsity football club. Wilson started off with a rousing 21-6 win over Santa Monica, Their only defeat of the year came at the hands of Redondo 19-7. Alhambra, always tough, was topped in a thrilling game 14-12; Whittier went down by a score of 28-0, Compton 27-6, and Jordan 34-7. Not to be out done by the "Jinx Busters", Bruin gridgers took Poly before raving mobs by a 20-0 score.

★ B FOOTBALL—The 1944 edition of the Bruin Bee football had a lot to live up to in following a long line of flawless champions. Not to be out done, this year's Battling Bees copped the City and L. B. C. league titles when they defeated the highly touted Jordan eleven 13-6, and the invincible Compton Bees 6-0. Starting the season slowly Coach Pete Archer's Bee team dropped close games to Santa Monica 12-6, Redondo 20-8, Alhambra 19-6, and Whittier, So. Cal Champs, 14-6. From then on it was all Wilson for the Bruin Bees led by McGill, Rojas and Germani on the line, and backs, Roth and Knowles proved too much for the opposition as they climaxed the season by downing Poly 25-6.

Fourth row: Holm, Ecton, Montague, Russell, Foster, Anderson, Tewksbury, Cagle, Nelson, McColm, McVicars, Muntz, Alguire, Whitney.

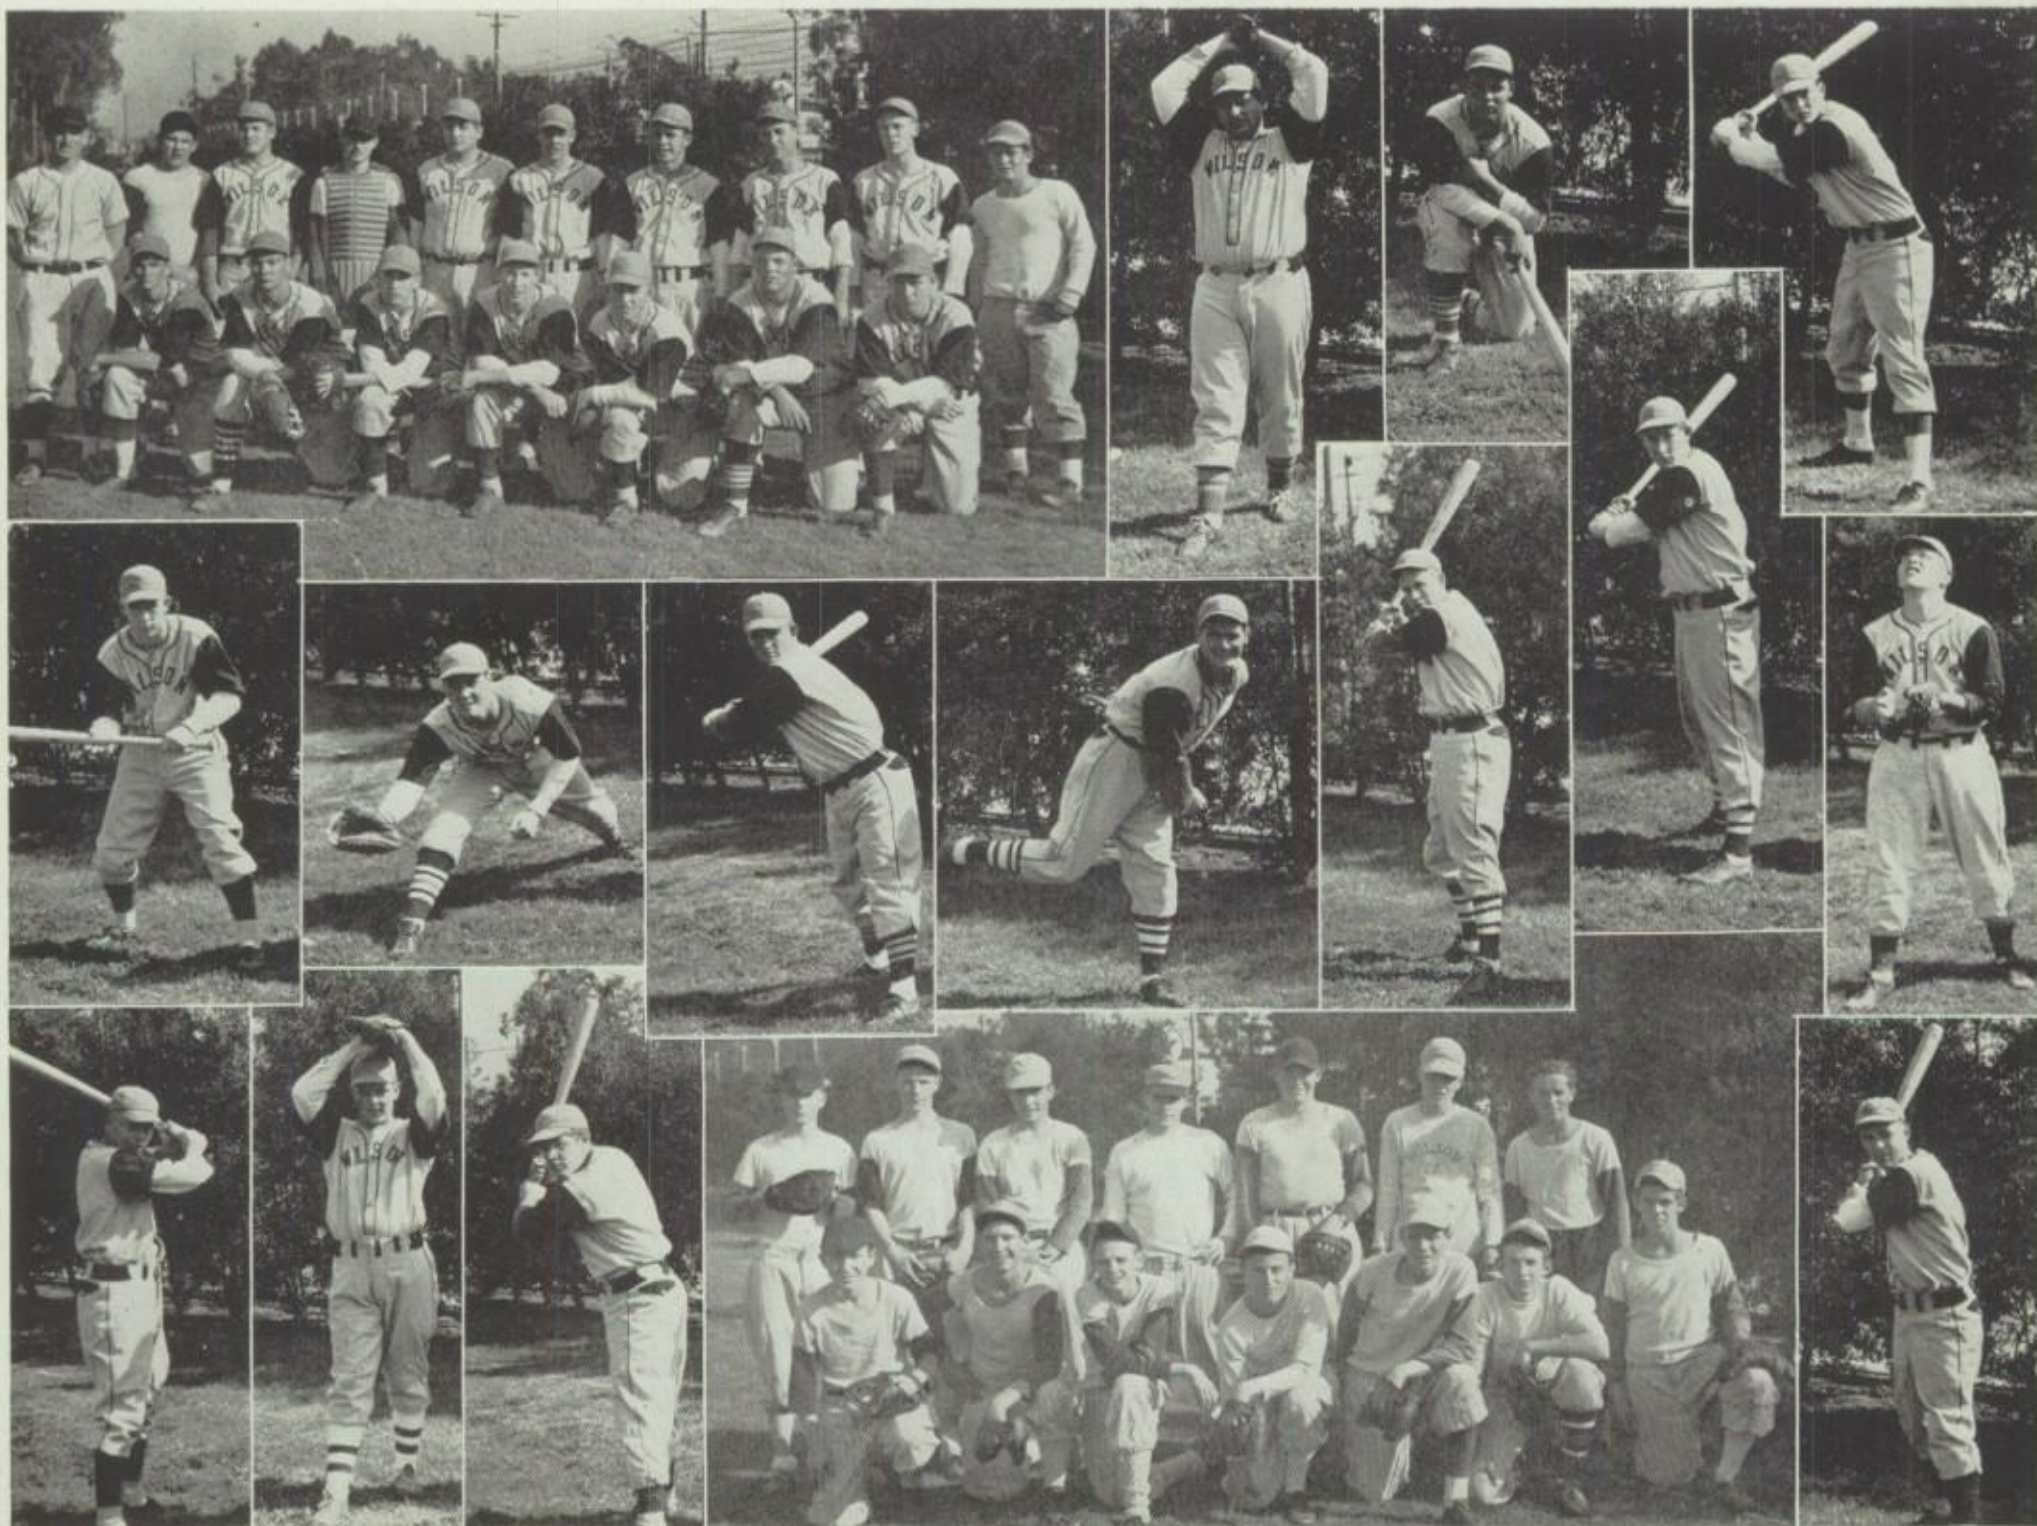

★ VARSITY BASKETBALL—In a fiery 22 game season marked by last second decisions, the Varsity Bruins swept to a tie with Compton in the L. B. C. League. Raving mobs packed the Auditorium to see Poly whip the Bruins in a thriller 34-35; they then turned around to whip a favored Compton quintet 36-22, and trounce Jordan 46-34. In the second round the basketeers gained revenge on Poly 45-34, dropped a close decision to Compton in a thrilling last second basket 26-27, rolled over Jordan 43-34. At the Beverly Hills tournmaent the Varsity won from Pasadena 35-27, only to lose to South Pasadena in the quarter finals 46-35. Wilson's star studded team dominated all-city and all-league selections placing center, Bob Lewis, and guard, Don Liggett, on all-city, and forward, Bob Braly, on all-league team.

★ B BASKETBALL—In a season marked by last minute thrillers the Brubabes won 11, and lost 9. During the practice season they took close decisions from Whittier, San Pedro, and Banning, but lost upsets to Excelsior and Narbonne. In League play they split with Poly winning 19 to 17, and losing 33 to 26. Compton won twice 33-25, and 39-32. Jordan was beaten twice, 30-18, and 47-28. leading scorer was Capt. Sterling Clayton who poured through 200 points in 20 games.

Thousands in packed City Auditorium see Bruins tie for League Honors

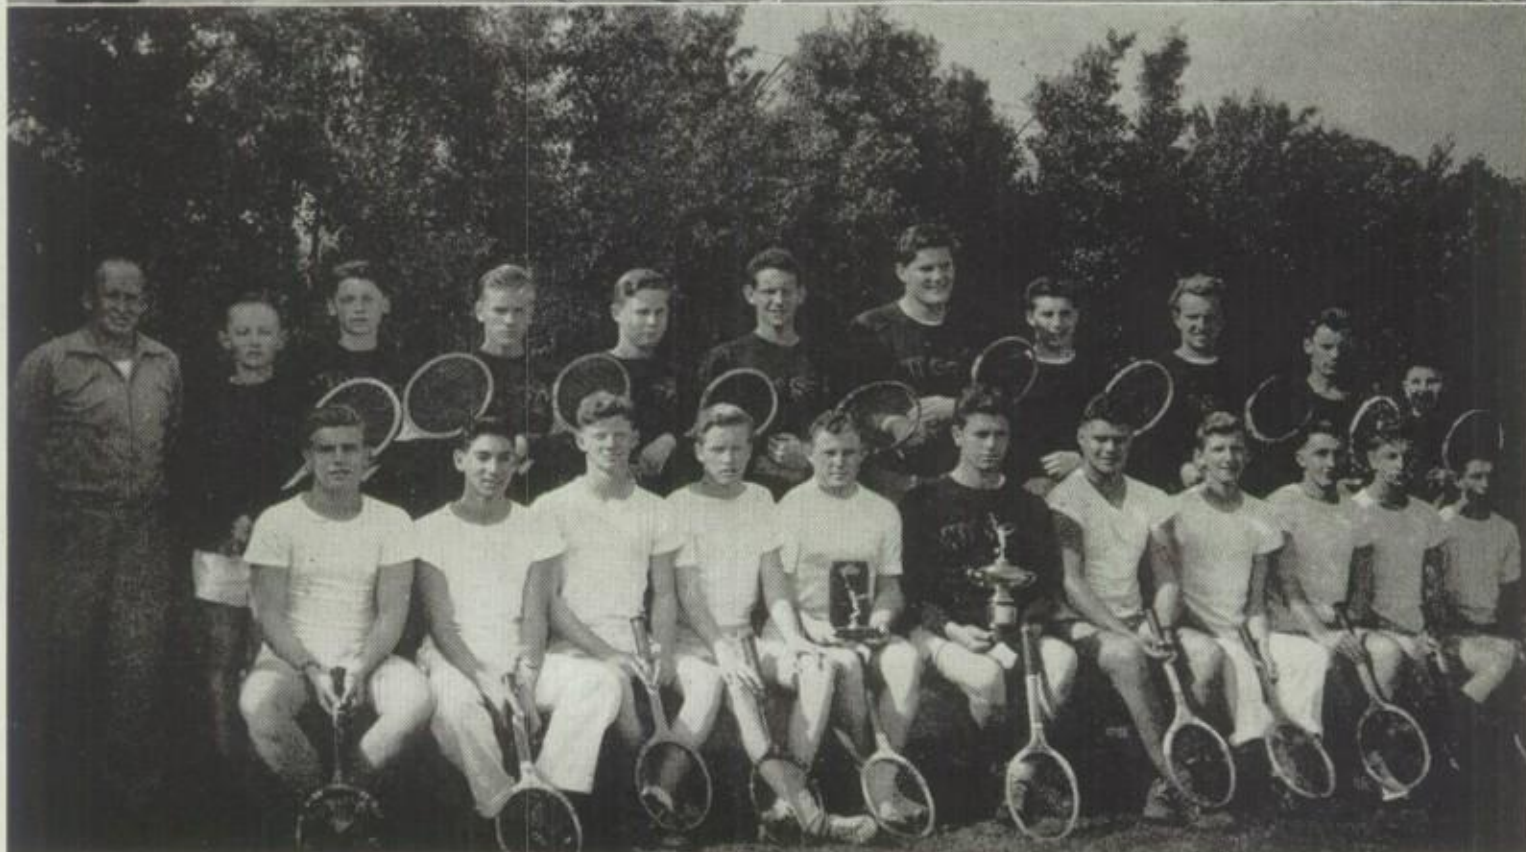

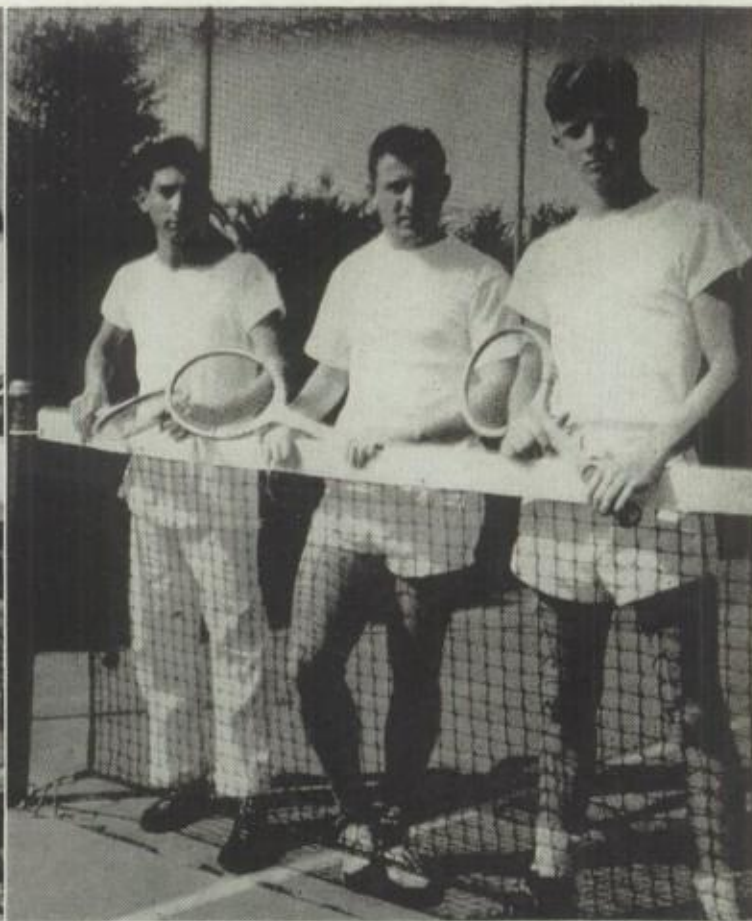

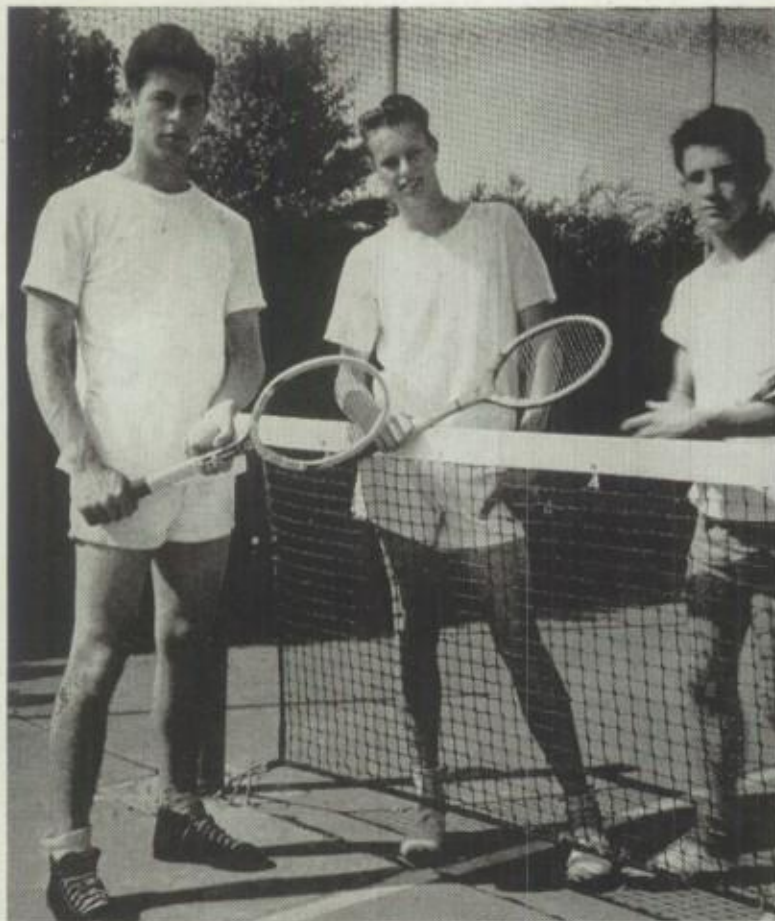

★ VARSITY BASEBALL—With 14 straight wins to their credit the Bruin Varsity is still going strong toward City and League championships. No defeat mars their record in what looks like the most successful season in Bruin horsehide history. Easy defeats of Redondo, Narbonne, Inglewood and Whittier started the season off right. At the Leuzinger tournament the Bruins rolled over Inglewood 6-0, Beverly Hills 9-2 and won the tournament by downing Santa Monica 7-5. With the first round of League play over, Wilson has beaten Poly 14-8, Jordan 16-1 and Compton 8-3. As the season rolls into the final stretch the Varsity Club is hitting for league and city honors. At press time the Bruin horsehidiers are the leading team in Southern California while the strong J. V. team has challenged the best in the L. B. C. League.

★ VARSITY TENNIS—Defending Burnett Bowl champions, the Bruin Varsity tennis squad is off to a good start in City and League play. Pre-season wins from Whittier, Santa Ana, and Anaheim set up for League wins from Compton and Jordan. Twin losses to Poly offset a good season record. Leading player is Eddie Cramer, backed by Leslie Joseph, Jim Yates, Myron Pelsinger, Jack Gosch, Bill Findlay, Clayton Carsten, Bob Walquist and Mallam Frye. This year's squad will defend their championship by playing the winner of the Poly-Jordan contest which will decide the annual Burnett Bowl championship. Junior Varsity tied for League championship with Poly.

Fourth row: Huglin, Escobosa, Van Calligan, Ruprecht, Ealy, McNeal, Kenyon, DuFort, Barlow, Harder.

★ VARSITY TRACK—At press time the 1945 Varsity team coached by John Gartner and Cliff Meyer has won two meets and lost the All-City by a few points. In the All-City meet in total points massed by Varsity, Bee and Cee, Wilson tallied 148½ to win the Charley Paddock trophy. In the first annual Long Beach high school relays, Wilson took first place with 61 points with seven schools competing. Wilson scored 72 points to win the dual meet with Santa Monica. Bruin cindermen were led by Chuck Toy in the 880, McCoy and Vaughan sprints; Halloran, hurdles; Jim Smith, mile, and Bob Allen, 440.

★ BEE TRACK—Brubabes are undefeated at this book goes to press, with decisive victories in the All-City meets. John Gartner and Cliff Meyer have groomed several middies for the So. Cal finals. Bee star men are Don Kelly, sprints; Pat Huglin, 1320; and Bill Layden and Grant Firestone, hurdles.

★ PLAYDAYS—Hundreds of girls gathered for fun, laughter, and skill in round after round of playdays. Rallies, tennis, volleyball, and softball drew scores of girls into their web of good times and vigorous activity. Leadership, co-operation, and fair play were evidenced by Wilson, Poly, and Jordan athletes in evenly matched contests at Poly and City College. Basketball draws us all—two softball teams fill the field—strike one!—it's a hit—run—hooray, hooray!—shouts of happiness—sincere congratulations—another hard-won victory is in the bag—Come back again—See you at Fullerton—at Jordan—at City College—Don't miss our 9A rally—Sign up here for tennis—Gee, that was fun. Firm friendships and fine morale are guaranteed when the enthusiastic members of the GAA attend a fun filled playday.

★ W CLUB—"We will," say the enthusiastic W clubbers in response to any plea for war work. Answering this call, members covered sausage boxes, painted tray favors, knitted wash cloths and sweaters. Rolling bandages at the Red Cross was another way of taking part in the all-out effort. This honorary organization stands ready and willing to usher, to make invitations, to plan programs for any G.A.A. activities. Outstanding feature of the year was the sponsorship of the intersectional volleyball tournament. Four hundred fifty Wilsonians took part in this co-educational tournament which consisted of fifty-six teams. Rigid membership requirements guarantee an outstanding club personnel. Every activity at Wilson is represented by this club, which, for the first time in history, was composed entirely of Boosters. The club, whose members are proud owners of white sweaters with red W's, is sponsored by the competent Mrs. Scheman.

Girl athletes develop poise, control, coordination in gala sports pageant

★ GAA—Versatile, enthusiastic, vigorous are the members of the Girls' Athletic Association. Their love of fun and rollicking good times is evidenced by the gay, carefree laughter which fills the gym field. Every day Wilson girls drink in the California sunshine; they enjoy recreation during their leisure hours; they train minds and bodies in poise, co-ordination, muscular and emotional control. The spirit of team competition is a challenge to the girl of today, just as the fate of the postwar world will challenge her tomorrow. Sportsmanship, character, respect, co-operation are developed by the give and take of both individual and team sports. Lasting friends are made on the tennis court—on the hockey field. Everywhere the spirit of happiness and good cheer prevails. Everywhere is understanding of and deep appreciation for the God-given land of America.

Scores of Wilsonians fill volleyball courts with fun and laughter

★ INTERSECTIONAL VOLLEYBALL—The lively Voisard's Vultures captured the intersectional volleyball title for the second time by trouncing the hard fighting Hart's Hellcats in a spectacular evenly-matched game. Fifty-two teams entered the co-educational contest, sponsored by members of the W Club. Each activity period spirited games were played on the twelve courts on the girls' gym field. Literally hundreds of Wilsonians flocked to the field to uphold the honor of such teams as the Devils, the Louses, the Demons, the Bums, the Dumbos, and the Terrors. Highspot of the season was the appearance of Moore's Morons, lively undefeated faculty team. Sparkplug of the contest was Mrs. Scheman, physical education teacher and W Club sponsor who directed volleyball activities.

Tennis with hundred appeals tops all games in sunny south

★ TENNIS—Stiff competition is the keynote of the Girls' Tennis Club. Through playdays and tournaments Wilson is matched against girls of neighboring schools. By means of ladder competition girls are matched against their classmates. The fundamental strokes are taught to all beginners by the sponsor, Miss Vera Johnston. Intermediate and advanced players improve their game by challenging higher-ranking players. Stimulated by the Wightman cup team of the ten ranking players in the Los Angeles area, tennis stars from the club enthusiastically prepared for the tournament. Proud and happy is the girl who at last reaches the honored spot of number one, Varsity, a worthy goal for any tennis player.

★ SWIMMING—A shout! a splash! and another member of the Swimming Club executes a perfect dive. Fifty girls churn the icy, green water in their race toward the pool's end. The echo of fifty happy voices fills the room. Principles of water safety, lifesaving, and fundamentals of diving are emphasized during the instruction period for advanced swimmers. Foremost in the rank of current interests are the Red Cross lifesaving tests. Beginners' swimming consists of the fundamental strokes, the backstroke, the breaststroke, and side stroke. Miss Hunt of the Y. W. C. A. is the swimming instructor; Miss Reagan is the club sponsor.

Keep the balls rolling! Aim for a strike down the alley for victory

★ BOWLING—Bowling enthusiasts, 100 strong, flock to Major alleys every Monday for an exhilarating, stimulating game. So great was the interest in the game that 200 signed up, but owing to lack of alleys only 100 could join the club. The fourteen alleys echo the sound of balls rolling and pins flying. A strike! the aim of every bowler. A turkey! better yet. Let's play another school! Let's beat another school! Let's bowl some! Don't stop now! Both boys and girls are enthusiastic members of the ever popular group. Beginners learn fast, and intermediates improve as the club meets each week. Wilson students join the ranks of thousands who enjoy zestful, wholesome recreation which has more ardent players than any other sport.

Pep-assembly song leaders pose with Kline '42 hoping for a Bruin victory. Army, Navy, and Marines home from battle make ready for "Big Game." Before Poly duel former Wilsonians pull for victory; went wild with the winning score, 20-0.

S. Sgt. Ed Panter 4th Army Air Corps returns after 3 years in So. Pacific

★ LIFE—Hi, Eddie Martin of the Navy! Hi, Eddie Panter of the Air Corps and the 36 months in the Pacific. Welcome back, fellows all of you! Say are you ready for the big game? C'mon, fellows are we going to beat 'em this year? Ahhh! Who says our esprit de corps is not high this year? Watch the Song Leaders take thousands with them as they turn on the high octane! These hysterical, pep-packed car riders are coming home from the Poly game. Crisp, natty band men watch the game from side lines. Band and Boosters go into grand routines, face grand stands, ready for Wilsonia. Fleet footed lightning team do their stunt for first home game.

Wilson camp shows set pace in variety service entertainment

★ CAMP SHOWS—Wilson camp shows frolicked packed houses with entertainment deluxe. Whistles screeched as Wilsonians displayed South-Sea dances. Boone proposes to Melone; Walquist and Palmer approve. Majorettes twirl, vocalists warble to Beth's music?less guitar. Snappy Bruins encouraged cheers with version of "Beautiful Doll." Enthusiastic sailors gleamed with Nick Furjanick's band making a little "Star dust." Wilson musclemen practise pyramids before the show. Black and Mac shake to the thunderous applause of servicemen. "Blue Skies" were red with Camp Show trio. Goodmunson freezes Whyte at the point of her pistol. Williams and company received strong approval with care-free antics. Show was rated one of the best of its kind, touring Southland bases and hospitals.
